A SINK IN THE DARK

Sometimes falls its murderous tentacles the fraudulent and dishonesty attacks manifestly in the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach fact that these cheap imitations are sold under the name of "Hostetter's" is most reprehensible and disreputable to the original inventor, who has no objection to making his name known to the public, but he does object to having his name used to sell inferior goods.) The fact that these which they attended during the last five months.

The "Mules," a secret organization with headquarters at Emma, held a celebration at that place last Saturday. Quite a number from this place attended.

The following young ladies gave the News office a most pleasant call last week: Misses Maud and Jock Carey, Willie Burgess, Maria Waldeck and Mary Burns.

Prof. G. M. Elam, the popular Blaine teacher, left here Saturday for Lebanon, Ohio, where he will spend the next two months in attending the Summer Institute.

We have heard some talk favorable to a Fourth of July celebration at this place. If anything of this kind is to be gotten up it is time some substantial steps were being taken.

W. O. Johnson will arrive at home to-day from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, New York, to spend the few weeks vacation allowed his class. He entered the school almost two years ago, and this is his first vacation. In all examinations he has stood very high.

We take this method of thanking all who were connected with the Jonathan at the M. E. Church South parsonage last Friday night. We highly esteem these tokens of kindness, not so much for their worth in dollars and cents, but as a token of appreciation of the humble service which we endeavor to render to the church, and we earnestly pray that while you are supplying our needs in temporal things, that Christ who said that "All the hairs of your head are numbered," will give you an abundance of his grace.

A Fatal Fracas.

Two Boys Engage in a Deadly Encounter.

On last Sunday, a difficulty occurred near the forks of Hood in this county, a short distance from the Johnson county line, between Gus Green and Leander Bryant, which resulted in the death of the latter. The particulars as we have ascertained them are as follows: Green was going home from church with his girl and was followed by five young men (Bryant being one of them) who were not on very friendly terms with him. They used vulgar and insulting language purposefully, the hearing of Green and the young lady and subsequently threatened him and annoyed him in various ways. Green told them to get in front, and they replied that they would not be driven by a "d-d dog" and added that he must go or die." Bryant then struck Green with a club, when the latter drew a knife and cut his assailant in the hand and across the forehead. Bryant died on Monday evening from the effects of his wounds. Green's skull is probably cracked and his wounds may prove fatal.

Both Green and Bryant are said to be under twenty years of age.

Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Hiloh's Cure. G.T. Ross, Druggist.

Visit to the Breaks in the Cumberland Mountains.

Never before in all my travels have I seen such a grand and beautiful sight as witnessed at the breaks in the Cumberland mountains a few days since. Stand upon the Pinnacle Rock of the Towers of the Cumberland mountains, 3,000 feet above the sea, and watching the waves of Russell's Fork River, as it dashes down along the ravine, with the sun rising, as it very often of the sea, in far East, throwing a few rays upon gray granite of the pinnacle with a fine line of smoke hanging around the tops of the Towers, and just on the line of the C. C. & C. R. R. Every few minutes a deafening report from some blast, followed by a low rumbling sound as thousands of yards of solid stone go sliding and crumbling into the awful abyss below gives evidence that the railroad experts under the management of V. B. Dawson are rapidly defacing of the grandest and most beautiful works in the world.

Altho' it is slightly on a boom.

R. King is working three or four miles on the foundation of Gen. Wilder's dam which will soon be completed. The dam has been laid off in lots, and Mayor is trying to get somebody to move in and buy a city council. Rocky.

News from the Sunny South.

JEANNERETTE, LA.

DEAR NEWS:—The cry in 1861 was "On to the South." The cry is again heard coming from northern and western States, not for the same purpose as before, to settle amongst their Southern brethren, the home of Evangeline, the daughter of Louisiana. Never in the history of Louisiana has there been an influx of Northern and Western settlers as at the present time. The war-stricken sufferers of Kansas, Indiana, and Minnesota are pouring into the country with now and then a citizen of Kentucky and other States amongst them. There is quite a colony of Lawrence county, Ohio, men here mostly engaged in timbering, or as it is called here, "limbing." They have come as fine men here as any other State in the Union can produce, principally Cypress, and other woods such as oak, ash, gum, magnolia, pecan, hickory, poplar, locust. The cypress timber is from inches to 5 feet in diameter, and from 10 to 20 feet in height, and the logs float down the river in the swampy places. The average Big Sandy river, employing quite a number of mills. Each mill has its planing machine, dry houses and shingle mills, and capacity of both mills is from 50 to 100 thousand feet per day, and they often run at night from twenty-five thousand to hundred thousand shingles per day. The mills have switches run from the river and quite a large number of boats are loaded every week and shipped out to West.

The sugar and rice crop in this section are looked brighter than at present, and we have some fine showery which have been very beneficial to the crops. What a goodly Big Sandhills think about crops. The sugar crop will average 3,000 pounds to the acre, producing for the water over one hundred dollars of a clear profit. Louisiana produces as fine rice as is grown anywhere in the world. Only a few short years ago no corn at all was raised here. Now the June has changed and corn is regularly exported. As for vegetables this country can not be excelled. Two crops a year for vegetables and small fruits in abundance. For the benefit of our housewives I must inform them that all jellies and preserves have already been made and put up by our Southern housekeepers. Watermelons are now in the market and find a ready sale. As for fish we have plenty of them. We are only nine miles from the Gulf and fishing and surf bathing parties are found here. Your correspondent has an invitation to join one of these next week, and no doubt will participate.

[On account of lack of space we could only publish a portion of this letter. Will complete it next week.]

NEW YORK

This image shows a narrow, vertical strip of aged, textured paper or parchment. The material is heavily worn, with numerous tears, creases, and discolorations visible along its length. The texture is rough and uneven, characteristic of old paper. The strip is narrow and appears to be a fragment of a larger document.
